"FORTY YEARS ON" STILL ECHOS

K.H.C. PLAYS PART IN COMPTON ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATIONS

The town of Compton, incorporated in 1856, is presently celebrating its 125th anniversary. The village has been all dressed up for the occasion. Anniversary signs hang from every building. Excitement prevails.

Amongst the various festivities, planned by the townspeople, was a large parade down the main street on Sept. 5th. Everyone was asked to enter floats for the parade, depicting scenes of Compton's history and the features which make Compton unique. When the people at Domaine St. Laurent heard about this, there was no doubt in their minds that their float would recognize the role that King's Hall played in that community for almost one hundred years.

After all, the school was founded when the town was only eighteen years of age.

Carpenters were put to work behind closed doors at King's Hall, making a float. They worked frantically and in secret to complete the float in time. The end result was a massive, beautiful replica of King's Hall. Twenty school — aged girls from the area were conscripted to walk in front and behind the float in "croc" walk style. They were instructed beforehand as to how to wear their tunics, ties, etc. and spent many evenings, rehearsing the music and lyrics of "Forty Years On."

The parade was a grand success and many, many people were on hand to watch it pass. All the participating floats were judged by a committee as they passed. The results are not yet public but I'll wager that the King's Hall float is bound to win a prize.

The strong voices which rang out "Forty Years On" are still echoing along the parade route.

AU REVOIR : MARGOT HANDS REINS TO URSULA

This is both a sad and a happy moment for me. Sad because it is never easy to say goodbye to fine friends made at B.C.S. and amongst the Alumni community and to leave a job which has been so personally rewarding and just a pleasure to do. It was not an easy decision for me. On the other hand, this is a happy moment because I have the secure knowledge that the Alumni Association is being left in good hands at the school with a fine new representative to carry on in your interests.

Ursula Evans, wife of our new Chaplain, Malcolm, comes to us directly from the Toronto School of Art where she has been Assistant Director for the past three years. This experience will no doubt help her in her new position, but so will other positions she has held in the past. They will all contribute in making her work at B.C.S. seem familiar. Ursula has worked as a liason and supervisor between Theological students at Trinity College and the Centre for Christian Studies with the people in their field placements; she has been an active member of Grace Church on the Hill in Toronto; and was on the staff of the "Gargoyle." This is a newspaper which Old Boy, Doug Bassett published for Grace Church. This paper was sent to parishioners and friends and was very similar to our own Bulletin in scope.

Ursula has also taught at Bishop's Strachan School; has served on the board of Humewood House; and, along with a few friends, began a nursery school in Niagara in 1973 which is still in operation.

I enjoyed the month of August spent showing Ursula the ropes in the Alumni office. She is ready and keen. Please join me in welcoming her. Let us welcome her by giving her a very strong annual giving programme this Fall, and by providing her with lots of news for her first Bulletin, and by giving her the same amount of tremendous support and kindness as was shown to me.

In closing, I would like to thank the Alumni Directors, the Directors of the School, the Headmaster and all the staff at B.C.S. When one is surrounded by such people, it is impossible not to love one's work. The experience of the past five years for me, is best described by the following words of Kahlil Gibran:

"All work is empty save when there is love,

And when you work with love you bind yourself to yourself and to one another, and to God.

And what is it to work with love?

It is to change all things you fashion with a breath of your own spirit,

And to know that all the blessed dead are standing about you and watching."

Margot Graham
(K.H.C. '69)

THANK GOODNESS

We are not really saying Goodbye to Margot Graham because she is going to continue as Vice-President and Secretary of the Board of Directors of the Alumni Association. However she is giving up the responsibilities of Director of Alumni Affairs and Editor of the Bulletin. Margot is going to New York to study Interior Design. After Christmas, when she finishes the course she will be ready to advise us all on any interior renovations and/or decorating.

Margot has carried the Alumni Association forward a long way in her nearly five years here. Alumni lists are up to date and complete as much as is possible at any given time. Archives have been catalogued and ordered as never before. Margot has found treasures in hidden corners of the school and brought them together to form a fascinating body of material and memorabilia.

I was fortunate enough to be present at a going away luncheon given by the staff of B.C.S. at the Domaine St. Laurent in Compton (formerly King's Hall) for Margot. There, as she gave me a tour from the ceiling garrets to the furnace and linen rooms, I realized I was in the presence of a leading authority on the history of King's Hall. She knew everything from the earliest name, carved in the desk in the present bar to the colour of the oriental carpet that used to grace the main staircase and is no longer there.

That same day it was very evident that she is going to be missed in the halls of B.C.S. by the staff, at least two of whom knew her as a student at K.H.C. Cynthia Drew and Muriel Miltimore were solely and completely in charge of all the office work carried on at K.H.C. from 1968 until its closing in 1972. They remember her with fondness from those days. Interesting to note that Mrs. Drew as secretary to the headmaster and Mrs. Miltimore, as secretary to the Bursar both continue to play key roles in the smooth running of the school at B.C.S.

Alumni nostalgia and sentiment are created by many shared experiences. Margot has been an integral part of those experiences with many, many people, staff, teachers, alumni and students.

Thank goodness we are not really saying Goodbye to Margot.

MALCOLM EVANS RETURNS TO B.C.S. AS CHAPLAIN

Canon Malcolm C. Evans, (47-50) former prefect, head of the choir, school debater and member of the players club has come back to the school.

Actually this will be Malcolm's third return. He was a master in the Prep from 1951 to 1954. Following which he completed a degree at Queen's University. In 1958-1959 he was Assistant House Master at Williams House and a master in the Upper School. After two years of study in Theology at Westcott House at Cambridge University in England, he returned to Canada where he was ordained deacon in 1961 and priested in 1962 in the Diocese of Niagara. He spent the next ten years in that Diocese, first as curate in Thorold (61-63), rector of St. Hilda's, Oakville (63-67), rector of St. John's, Stanford (67-69), then finally as Director of Planning and Programming for the Diocese until 1972. That year Malcolm moved to the Diocese of Toronto where he was appointed rector of Grace Church on the Hill. He remained there for the next eight years, during which time he served on many committees both in the church and in the city.

In 1980, he was invited to spend a sabbatical year in Kingston at Fort Frontenac, studying at the National Defence College in the Senior Staff Course. He resigned from Grace Church in order to do this.

Now he will be taking charge of our St. Martin's Chapel, a most important place at B.C.S. Chances are that he will be found too in the playing field, in the theatre and generally involved in many facets of life at the school. We welcome him and his family, Ursula, Jonathan, Melissa & Kenneth, and look forward to his time here at B.C.S.

TORONTO REUNION: A HUGE SUCCESS

April 30, 1981 — One wonders how large the Toronto Gatherings are going to get. It's terrific. Once again, another room had to be opened to accommodate our Toronto Alumni. We now occupy the entire second floor of Toronto's Badminton and Racquet Club, close to 150 guests attending this year.

The Toronto Reunion also has a system of optional group dinners at a restaurant next door to the club, following the cocktail party. Many more groups than last year, continued their festivities at this restaurant — actually, we monopolized the place.

Montrealers will be pleased to hear that Torontonians are now into bun throwing. A fine pitch and toss took place between several tables, with the odd miss landing on a table where the occupants had nothing to do with B.C.S. or K.H.C. The first bun was tossed, however, by a relocated X Montrealer, so this may not count as an authentic Toronto throw. Nevertheless, Torontonians are catching on slowly but surely to this Alumni sport.

It was another good get-together of many fun people. Thanks due once more to Ann (Cameron) Mitchell who does so much of the organizing for this event.

1980-81 CADET REVIEW

As in past years, some notable achievements and changes have taken place within No. 2 C.C.

In spite of monsoon type weather on the day of the Annual Black Watch Church Parade, excellent turnout and drill were shown by our Corps.

Nine cadets attempted the National Gold Star Examination this year. This covers a variety of subjects, including teaching cadets from other Corps on an away week-end at C.F.B. Farnham. All were successful in the written exam and six successfully completed the practical week-end.

New cadets enjoyed good weather conditions on their overnight camping trip to Camp Wilvaken. All had the opportunity to test their skills at canoeing, 22 shooting, orienteering, cooking and shelter building.

Junior cadets also had the opportunity to take part in water survival camps, held in Katevale, Que. Survival skills such as trap setting, rabbit skinning, snowshoeing, etc. were practiced.

The Sponsor and Commanding Officer wish to express their thanks to all instructors, organizations and individuals who gave their time, support and facilities to make it a successful year for the Corps.

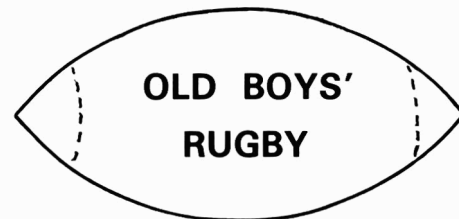

Of cadets participating in summer camps (1980) two were selected to attend Leadership and Outward Bound Courses in England and Wales this year.

Cardio Pulmonary Resuscitation (C.P.R.) courses, complete with our own resuscitating Annie were introduced this year, Both the short (four hours) and the long (fifteen hours) were given.

Other activities offered were Hunter Safety, Leadership and Instructional Courses, Recreational Shooting, Photography, Duke of Edinburgh Award and the Band, which continues to grow in numbers and strength.

The second Annual Officers and N.C.O.'s Mess Dinner was held in this fall term — a splendidly civilized sight.

The 120th Annual Inspection took place on May 15th with Lt. Col. J.G. Bourne, E.D., Honorary Colonel of the Black Watch, R.H.R. of Canada, inspecting. It was his third visit to the school as inspecting officer.

April 24th, 1981 — A 22 man squad of Old Boys made it back to B.C.S. for this annual match against the B.C.S. First XV. They arrived, rubbing their hands in glee on sight of the playing conditions — torrents of rain and a nice soft, mucky field. Rugby players love to get dirty and these conditions are also the safest for this sport — everyone simply slides around.

The match was a joy to watch. Both teams capably got the ball for several tries. A cloud of steam followed the pack, up and down the field. The game was tied until near the end when B.C.S. made the winning try. Both teams gave the onlookers a fine display of skill and knowledge.

Old Boy, Chris Bovaird '73 deserves special note. He hasn't missed one of the matches in eight years. One year he even refereed a match. Joining him this year were: Phil Marten, Serge St. Jean, Dave Bonnett, Don Johnston, Bruce Davis, Steve and Danny Scheunert, Tony Ross, Steve Jenne, Richard Vaughan, Tom Simard, Eli Lee, Marc Bibeau, Mike Laframboise, Mark and Jon Hantho, Willy Badger, Jamie Stearns, Ari Vineberg, Peter Provencher and Mike St. Onge. All these players are former First XV members.

PROFILE: THIS "OLD BOY" MADE IT IN THE MOVIES

Several months ago, a letter arrived in the Alumni office from a woman who is writing a book on an early pioneer family in Bytown, Ontario. Her letter said that she had information that one member of the family may have attended B.C.S. and asked whether this could be confirmed, and, if so, could we supply any other information on the boy. She ended by saying that he had gone to Hollywood to become an actor. I proceeded to dig around in the files.

In the Registry Book for the 1890's, I found the entry for him: Rockcliffe Fellowes, born on March 17, 1884 son of G.R.L. Fellowes, a civil engineer in Ottawa. Rockcliffe entered IV Form in 1898 and graduated in 1900. No other information appeared there. The school magazine for those years provided me with a little more information on him. — He had been on the 1899 1st Cricket and 1st Football Teams. Luck was really with me when I found that the 1899 Football Team photograph was in the Archives. I gathered up all this material and sent it along with a copy of the picture. My job was done.

It was about three weeks later that the name of Rockcliffe Fellowes cropped up again, under bizarre circumstances. I was with friends on a Sunday afternoon to watch the classic Marx brothers film "Monkey Business." As the opening credits began, each Marx brother, Groucho and the gang, were introduced. Then, lo and behold, Rockcliffe Fellowes' name came up next, playing the part of Joe Helton in the movie. Popcorn flew out of my mouth and I started jumping up and down saying, "He's an Old Boy — I can't believe it, this guy went to B.C.S." The woman had not made it clear to me that Rockcliffe had actually acted in films so I was naturally taken aback to see him in front of me on the TV screen. Once my friends had settled me down, we thoroughly enjoyed the flic, which was only interrupted by my occasional comments of, "He really hasn't changed much from school days — I'd recognize him anywhere," as if I had known him personally.

Following this episode, I decided to find out more about Rockcliffe Fellowes, the actor. I discovered that he was named after his great grandmother's home "Rockcliffe," an estate from which the present Rockcliffe Park in Ottawa gets its name.

From B.C.S., it seems that Rockcliffe went straight to New York. He was an actor there. The date he left New York for Hollywood is not clear, however, it was certainly before 1917, for in that year he appeared in his first film "The Easiest Way" at the age of 33. This film would have been silent for it was not until 1927 when Al Jolson's "The Jazz Singer" appeared that talkies changed the motion picture business forever.

Rockcliffe Fellowes married actress, Lucille Watson (1879-1962), a Canadian character actress with stage experience, who usually played imperious roles. Her career is fascinating in itself and her films include some dandies —

"What Every Woman Knows" 1934
 "Sweethearts" 1939
 Waterloo Bridge 1940
 Rage in Heaven 1941
 The Great Lie 1941
 Watch on the Rhine 1943
 My Reputation 1944
 The Razor's Edge 1946
 Harriet Craig 1950
 My Forbidden Past 1951

Lucille Watson and Rockcliffe Fellowes were divorced in the late 1930's, à la Hollywood.

Rockcliffe appeared in scads of films, both silent and talkies, at least one a year for many years. A few of his films are:

The Easiest Way 1917
 In Search of a Sinner 1920
 The Spoilers 1923
 The Garden of Weeds 1924
 East of Suez 1925
 Syncopating Sue 1926
 The Taxi Dancer 1927
 The Charlatan 1929
 Outside the Law 1930
 Monkey Business 1931
 Lawyer Man 1932
 The Phantom Broadcast 1933
 The Black Page 1934

To the best of my knowledge, this is the only Old Boy to have had such a prolific career in the movies, certainly the only one who was a regular with Universal Studios. For this reason, keep an eye out on your latenight TV screen for some of these classics. You will have the unique opportunity of seeing an Old Boy, who, having long since died in 1950, will always be alive on the silver screen.

MORE ALUMNI ART ARRIVES AT SCHOOL

From Peter Lowery '67 — two gorgeous colour photographs. One entitled "Deep Woods and Fern," taken near Bolton, Quebec, during the summer of 1979. The second is an "Abandoned Garage" near Baie St. Paul, photographed in the summer of 1980.

From Ross Munro '70 — a pen and ink drawing, entitled "Kolomonskoye," a bell tower of the Ascension Church, 15th century Russia. This work was done in 1975, while Ross was touring the U.S.S.R.

From Bill Lang '60 — a painting of a Paris scene done in 1965 when Bill was living in Paris.

"Tori" Nichols '66 — a graphic design she did, entitled, "Study in Grey." Tori is a professional artist in the United States.

K.H.C. CLASS OF '61 HELD UNFORGETTABLE FOUR DAY REUNION

Following almost a year of planning and detailed organization, this anticipated reunion was off to a flying start on the evening of the Montreal Annual Dinner on May 7th, which several members of the class attended.

The following day more out-of-towners arrived in Montreal and several all night "rap" sessions ensued. The gals were in fine shape to hop on their school bus the next morning to spend the day at King's Hall. A school bus ride would not be authentic without the odd breakdown and this bus held true to form — twice! Fortunately the passengers had a limitless supply of Bloody Marys on hand so all was well. They arrived at K.H.C. fashionably late and were met by Gilly and Mlle Cailteux. The hours spent back at the school were probably the most memorable for everyone. Many of the class were seeing the school for the first time since graduation. A fine luncheon was served with Gilly at the head of the table and it seemed that the twenty years since the class had left the school had never taken place.

Time passed too quickly and the group kept finding ways to delay their departure. When they did board the bus again, a most heart-warming sight was seen. There were the girls leaving on their school bus and there was Gilly and Mlle., standing alone at the front door, bidding them goodbye as if they were simply heading off for summer holidays — a real "déjà vu" experience which left most of the class in a pool of tears.

That same evening, Judy Westwater held a party back in Montreal for the classmates and their husbands. It was another late evening.

On Sunday the reunion ended with a class brunch held at the Chateau Champlain Hotel.

The class of '61 at Domaine St. Laurent with Gilly and Mille

This group was so organized that they even had their own Bulletin compiled after the event, with lots of photographs to send to those who could not come to the reunion.

Attending the event were: Linda Fraser, Sue MacLaren, Peggy Butterfield from Bermuda, Sue McArthur, Judy Archer, Francie Bieler, Mary Molson, Judy Westwater, Jill Oughtred, Tory Rankin, Betty Taylor, Kathy Kingston from Jacksonville, Florida, Ginna Nichols from Denver, Colorado, Carol Sonne, Bonnie Bernier and Jane MacDougald who came up from Kentucky.

MONTREAL DINNER A LITTLE DIFFERENT THIS YEAR

The Montreal Contingent on May 7th

"Kip" chairs the business meeting

May 7, 1981 — The Montreal Annual Dinner and Meeting has a reputation for being great fun, and this year was no exception. About 130 guests were in attendance. One thing that made it a little different from previous years was that our guest speaker, Mrs. Blossom Caron, provided us with a unique slide show along with her talk. Mrs. Caron is an Art Historian and Photographer who has a special interest in the paintings of Cornelius Krieghoff. She has put together a wonderful slide show of Krieghoff's work, depicting Canadian life during his time. It took much travelling and time to photograph these many works of art from both private and public collections. Her narration and the appropriate background music really made this show most enjoyable. Occasionally, though, Old Boys would laugh when they shouldn't have — shame on you!

Another thing that made this dinner a little out of the ordinary was the presence of an unusually large number of sexagenarians. This was due to the fact that John Churchill-Smith held a stag party prior to the dinner, entitled "The 60 Year Old Get Together." Actually, many of the stag party people are still quite a way from that age, except Churchill-Smith, of course. Present were: Norman MacFarlane, George Cross, George Buch, Dunc Duclos, Gordie Powis, Bill Tyndale, Derek Price, Trevor Evans, Ken Darling, John Fuller, Andy Johnson, Ken Howard, Lorne Walls, Scottie Fraser, Okill Stuart, Ted Sheppard, Harry Trenholme, Hart Price, Des Stoker, Jim Kenny, Bill Molson, Bob Cockfield and Peter Aird.

The business side of the evening was once again capably conducted by Kip Cobbett '66. Kip leaves his position as President of the Association, which he has held for the last 3 years. We all thank him deeply for the true and consistent dedication he has shown toward the Alumni Association and the School. Kip is succeeded by David McLernon '62 to whom we wish an enjoyable tenure. Other new directors are: Andy Johnson '51 as Treasurer, Michael Shutezky '66 who returns to the board after a three year absence, Sally (Sharwood) Drummond '51 and Kate Brown '78.
